

Receptions and Comparatims

APGRD Research Seminar 2021

Convened by Fiona Macintosh, Justine McConnell, and David Ricks.

The APGRD Research Seminar, co-organised with The Oxford Research Centre in the Humanities (TORCH) and the British Comparative Literature Association (BCLA), and with the support of the Oxford Comparative Criticism and Translation research centre (OCCT), will take place online on Mondays at 5pm (UK time) in Michaelmas Term 2021.

Register

The seminars will take place on Zoom; to register please email apgrd@classics.ox.ac.uk

Recordings

Recordings of the speakers will be made available on the APGRD YouTube channel (the Q&A with attendees will not be recorded).

Programme

- Week 1: October 11: Disciplinarity
Emily Greenwood (Princeton) / María del Pilar Blanco (Oxford)
- Week 2: October 18: Temporalities
Tim Rood (Oxford) / Adhira Mangalagiri (QMUL)
- Week 3: October 25: What is a language?
Lucy Jackson (Durham) / Matthew Reynolds (Oxford)
- Week 4: November 1: Orality and script worlds
Patrice Rankine / Haun Saussy (both University of Chicago)
- Week 5: November 8: Decolonisation
Phiroze Vasunia (UCL) / Francesca Orsini (SOAS) / Chakravarthi Ram-Prasad (Lancaster)

- Week 6: November 15: Decoloniality
Marchella Ward (Oxford) / Mathura Umachandran (Cornell) / Joanna Page (Cambridge)
- Week 7: November 22: Posthumanism
Clara Bosak-Schroeder (University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign) / Alexander Beecroft (University of South Carolina)
- Week 8: November 29: Anthropocene
Brooke Holmes (Princeton) / Ben Hutchinson (Kent)

Click on the logos below to find out more about the APGRD, TORCH, BCLA, and OCCT:

BCLA

British Comparative
Literature Association

OXFORD
COMPARATIVE
CRITICISM &
TRANSLATION